Nanking (AP)—As a means of protecting state secrets from the prying eyes and ears of foreigners, the Chinese government has forbidden Chinese military men and diplomats to marry women of other nationalities. The new rules require government employees who are already married to foreigners to supply detailed information on the "background" of their mates. Among the things the government would like to know about the foreigner who has "married into" Chinese government service are: Does she maintain close contact with her friends and family back home? How often does she return to her homeland? Has she a good knowledge of the Chinese language? Diplomats already married to aliens are barred from representing

China in the country of origin of their wives. Officials of the army, navy and air services who are married to foreigners and are engaged in intelligence or secret service work, are being shifted to other duties.

ROCK CORK IS USED TO DEADEN SOUND

Planetarium to Give Feeling of Being Under Stars.

New York.—"A Midsummer Night's Dream" will come true in the Hayden planetarium now nearing completion at the American Museum of Natural History through the use of rock cork, sound-deadening insulation, according to Dr. Clyde Fisher, head of the department of astronomy and curator of the planetarium. "Although the room is enclosed entirely," stated Doctor Fisher, "one feels that he has been suddenly transported under a clear night sky."

"For years scientists have been baffled by the presence of walls in the attempt to complete the illusion of being out under the stars," continued Doctor Fisher. "The rock cork eliminates all reverberations, echoes and noises, and at the same time makes possible a light, self-supporting dome, several inches of rock cork being equal to 11 feet of solid stone in insulation value."

"One of the unique features in the planetarium is that there can be no windows. The rock cork, which also is an insulator against temperature changes, combines with air-conditioning to keep the temperature constant; otherwise it would be impossible to have the illusion of night."

"Rock cork is the latest of many developments in the planetarium field. In the center of the room will stand a Zeiss projector that will reproduce on the dome all the celestial objects visible to the human eye. One can go backward or forward in time or can be transported to any longitude and latitude. The planets in their courses, the rising and setting of the sun, all these can be reproduced."

"The planetarium will seat 750, special chairs tilted so that a spectator can see any portion of the sky being another novel feature."

Flatheads Have Charm! Are World's Best Lovers

Cleveland—Cheer up, you flatheads.

You are the world's best lovers, according to a Cleveland authority. Dr. Louis J. Karnosh, one of the country's outstanding psychopathologists and resident director of the neuro-psychiatric division of City hospital here, took issue with statements made by Dr. Ida Spellman, librarian of the British Phrenological society.

Doctor Spellman said: "Girls, shun all Romeo with flat heads! When you contemplate matrimony, first follow the dictates of reason; second those of sentiment; never accept a suitor with a flat skull."

Doctor Karnosh said: "Rumph! On the contrary, 'flat heads' as she calls them, make the best lovers."

"Flatheads are the pyknic variety. 'Pyknic' is Greek for 'thick' or 'compact.' It is opposed to the asthenic or sensitive type that oscillate jerkily between enthusiasm and apathy and prove most of our neurotic cases."

"Pyknics are naturally mobile or comfortable in their outlook on life. They are the happy engagers; never become unduly depressed; bustle about full of practical realism; have soft and kindly instincts."

"Don Juan and Casanova can certainly be cited as specimens of somewhat scandalous flatheads, as well as literary geniuses like Goethe and Byron."

Log Cabins Are Back in Favor Again for Poor

Dallas, Texas.—Rural rehabilitation work in this county is seeing a revival of log-cabin building, where families are anxious to get back to the soil and have not the money to build lumber houses. Relief Administrator E. J. Stephany says there have been built in the Mesquite section of the county 24 pioneer log cabins and 20 more are to be built soon.

The houses are built of logs from trees in nearby forests and are "chinked" and plastered with a mixture of mud and hay. Many will be whitewashed, presenting an appearance not unlike plaster. They are snug and attractive.

Families selected for the homes are being provided with 10 to 15 acres of land, a cow, two pigs, a flock of chickens, farming implements and tools, a well, seed and furniture.

Sheep Turkey Killed St. Joseph, Mo.—The largest wild turkey reported killed in the Ozarks this season was shot by John Bender, a member of the city health board. The bird weighed 27 pounds. The largest turkey reported killed last year weighed only 20 pounds.

Eats 88 "Hot Dogs," "Is Not Very Hungry"

Bulgaria.—Dimitroff, the world's very hungry, otherwise he might have bettered his record of eighty steaks at one sitting. The a corpulent, devoted citizen of the Bulgarian "hot dogs" called "re respect," highly prized round pieces of meat, pork and veal, washing them down with four bottles of wine.

He started out on his first forty, but lapped a little the next ten and ended on seventy fifty. There the waiter got caught, and he barely escaped through the back doorway. A large crowd watched him and applauded his efforts.

Rev. John Van Ess to Occupy Pulpit Here

REV. JOHN VAN ESS, D. D.

The Rev. John Van Ess, who will occupy the pulpit of the Fair Street Reformed Church Sunday morning, has spent over 25 years in Mesopotamia. He has been an eyewitness of the interesting transformations which have come as that country has passed from vassal of Turkey to British mandate to emerge in recent years as an independent Arab kingdom called Iraq. The country is of interest not only because of its unique position as center of some of the greatest civilizations of ancient times. Here one finds Nineveh, Babylon, Palmyra, Ur of the Chaldees, and archeological research of recent years has uncovered in their ruins much of their storied past. Living at Basrah, the base city of Iraq, Dr. Van Ess has been in touch with all who have played a part in the history of this land during the past quarter century and soldiers, scholars and archeologists have made his home their own as they have passed through. More than any one man he knows and understands the background and the significance of Iraq.

Dr. Van Ess is a missionary. During this whole period he has been conducting a boys' school which now has an enrollment of about 250 boys and is the outstanding educational institution of Iraq. To it come also boys from all along the coast of the Persian Gulf. Through his students he has built his life into the country, which means he has built also something of that greater life of the Master whom he follows. A thoughtful student and a keen observer, Dr. Van Ess is a speaker of unusual interest whom one cannot afford to miss on his rare visits to this country.

EARLIER MARRIAGE AGE RECORDED IN ENGLAND

London (AP)—They are marrying younger in England these days. It is revealed in the latest return of the registrar-general.

In fact, if an Englishman, is not married by the time he is 30, the odds are 5-to-1 against his ever taking the step.

A third of the 109,000 men married within the past quarter were under 25, and 50 per cent of the brides were under 24. The largest group of bridegrooms gave ages ranging from 25 to 30.

Czech Unemployment Increases. Praha, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Unemployment in Czechoslovakia increased from 568,837 in October, 1934, to 755,143 in December. The latter figure, however, was 3.2 per cent lower than that of December, 1933.

Hungary Finds Medieval Tunnel. Halmi, Hungary (AP)—Frontier police here found a tunnel 15 miles long which, when traversed, took

the New Pontiac STANDARD SIX

An Additional line of cars whose quality and beauty make the price phenomenal

Today Pontiac presents an addition to the Pontiac family—the Standard Six line—new line in price and offering many of the features that the 1935 De Luxe Six and Improved Eight introduced with such sensational success. All models have the same specialized styling that gained Pontiac the name of the most beautiful thing on wheels. The bodies are the same solid steel "Turret-Top" Bodies by Fisher. The brakes are the same—big, positive hydraulics, triple-acted against dirt and moisture. The new ride, the happy result of stabilized, synchronized springing, is every bit as gentle and comfortable as you could ask for. The engine, with its silver-alloy bearings, provides dependable performance so smooth and lively that you will doubt it is a six. And, best of all, it operates with an economy of gasoline and oil that will actually impress anyone who has had experience with other low-priced cars. A look, a ride and you'll decide you simply can't do better.

Mayor Proclaims Boy Scout Week

Outlines Benefits Offered by Youth Organization and Recommends Appropriate Celebration — Twenty-fifth Anniversary Week, February 8 to 14.

Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman has issued a proclamation, recommending that the citizens of Kingston appropriately observe Boy Scout Week, February 8 to 14, out of recognition for the service the Boy Scout organization has rendered to America for 25 years. The proclamation follows:

A Proclamation

The Boy Scouts of America, incorporated February 8, 1910, and chartered by Congress June 15, 1916, have during the past twenty-five years rendered notable service to the nation. They have done effective work in this community and throughout the country. During the war their efforts on behalf of Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns and other measures were outstanding. In time of distress from flood, hurricane, tornado and other disasters they have demonstrated the effectiveness of organized boy service. During the period of economic stress through which the country has just passed, they contributed in many ways to the relief of suffering, and on February 10 last, at the request of the President, they undertook as a National Good Turn, collection of clothing and house furnishings for the relief of the needy that resulted in the alleviation of much distress and suffering throughout the entire nation.

The Boy Scouts have not only demonstrated their worth to the nation, but have also contributed to a deeper appreciation by the American people of the higher conception of good citizenship.

The objective of the present ten-year program of the Boy Scouts of America is to provide for the nation a citizenry in which one of every four of the new male citizens each year will have had at least four years of Scout training.

During the past 25 years 6,530,000 persons through the various branches of Scouting have enjoyed adventure, hiking, camping, swimming, woodcraft, handicraft, fellowship, health and safety, and have learned how to be helpful to others and have been trained to be participating citizens.

During the week from February 8 to 14 the Boy Scouts of America will celebrate their 25th anniversary, continuing with a year of special activities including a National Jamboree in Washington, D. C., as announced by President Roosevelt.

THEFORE, I, Conrad J. Heiselman, Mayor of the city of Kingston, do hereby recommend that the citizens of this city observe this Boy Scout Week and anniversary year for the purpose of strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America.

I earnestly recommend that our civic organizations, our churches and our schools cooperate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective service rendered by the Boy Scouts of America. In order that the work of the Boy Scout program may be extended to a larger proportion of the boyhood of this city.

The Boy Scout movement offers unusual opportunity for volunteer service. It needs men to serve in various capacities as leaders of boys. I hope that all who can will, through the organizations with which they are connected, enlist for such personal service. Anything that is done to increase the effectiveness of the Boy Scouts of America will be a genuine contribution to the welfare of this city, the state, and the nation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of this city to be affixed.

Done this 1st day of February in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

CONRAD J. HEISELMAN,
Mayor.

Cat-Eye Annie Gets Cayuga County Cell

Auburn, N. Y., Feb. 1 (AP).—An obsolete cell in the now vacant women's quarters of the Cayuga county jail awaits "Cat-Eye Annie" McDowell, notorious jewel thief and prison escape artist who today completes a ten year term at Bedford Hills state prison.

She must face a charge of "unlawful escape" from nearby Auburn state prison in 1926, a few months after she had been sentenced for a $75,000 jewel robbery in Buffalo. While awaiting arraignment, probably Monday night, she will be confined in an old-fashioned cell with a barred window separating her from an alley 20 feet below.

No special precautions have been taken to keep her within the walls of the prison after she is returned by Sheriff Willard Wilcox. Whether an extra guard will be posted depends on how much truth there is to reports that Annie has failed in health since 1927.

"Cat Eye Annie"—the name was given her because of a peculiar cast to one eye—escaped from Auburn prison the first time by digging a hole in the wall of her cell. A few months later she broke out again by sawing the lock from her cell and escaping in clothes belonging to the prison physician. She was recaptured on both occasions a few miles from the prison.

HIGH FALLS SCHOOL NOTES ON ATTENDANCE AND GRADES

High Falls, Feb. 1.—The following had a perfect attendance for the month of January at the High Falls School: William Atkins, Edward Gray, Robert Sutton, Albert Blakely, Donald Burger, Nathan Halmowitz, Raymond Krom, Robert La Pott, Edith Bell, Dorothy Ransom, Arabel Smith, Mary Steen, Edna Winchell, Florence Burhans, Marjorie Van Kleeck, Delores Ayers, Betty Hagerty, Beatrice Tannenbaum, Donald Briggs, Billy Briggs, Ernest Christians, Frederick Quick, Norman Grossman, Raymond DuBois, Billy Sampson, Edna Blakely, Evelyn May, Dora Quick, Matilda Sampson, George Hoffman, Roger Terwilliger, Florence Ransom, Mavis Schoonmaker, and Bernice Winchell.

Due to heavy snow and an epidemic of measles attendance was lower than usual this month, nevertheless to date these have had a perfect attendance since school opened in September: William Atkins, Edward Gray, Robert Sutton, Albert Blakely, Raymond Krom, Robert La Pott, Arabel Smith, Mary Steen, Edna Winchell, Florence Burhans, Marjorie Van Kleeck, Delores Ayers, Betty Hagerty, Donald Briggs, Billy Briggs, Raymond DuBois, Frederick Quick, Billy Sampson, Edna Blakely, Dora Quick, Matilda Sampson, George Hoffman, Florence Ransom, Mavis Schoonmaker and Bernice Winchell.

These had the highest number of correct papers for their respective grades: Gloria Proctor and Henrietta Kirchner, first grade; Bernice Winchell and Roger Terwilliger, second grade; Dorothy Tannenbaum, third grade; Virginia Coan, fourth grade; Suzanne Hart, fifth grade; Beatrice Tannenbaum, sixth grade; Helen Coddington, seventh grade; William Atkins and Edna Winchell, eighth grade.

Honor students for the second quarter were: Mary Countryman, Henrietta Kirchner, Bernice Winchell, Florence Ransom, Leonard Countryman, Ruth Williams, Virginia Coan, Edna Countryman, Suzanne Hart, Blanche Henkin, Dora Quick, Matilda Sampson, Dorothy Tannenbaum, Donald Briggs, Raymond DuBois, Raymond Smith, Robert Van Kleeck, Beatrice Tannenbaum, Gusle Grossman, Helen Coddington, Marjorie Van Kleeck, William Atkins and Edna Winchell.

Word has come to us that Girard Chester, of the class of 1934, won first place in a Latin contest which was given in the New Utrecht High School, Brooklyn. This entitles him to compete in the New York City High School Latin contest. All here are very pleased to hear of the success of the former High Falls boy.

Due to a new ruling as to credits in New York University, the intermediate teacher, Miss Sara A. Felberg, has to leave Friday, February 1. She will be greatly missed, but best wishes for her success go with her. Mrs. Elmer Rogers of Stone Ridge will substitute for her during her absence.

A special Mothers' Club meeting will be held Friday, February 1, at 3 o'clock, to enable Miss Felberg to bid the mothers and friends goodbye.

Expulsion Of Abyssinia From League Probable Italian Proposal At Geneva

By ANDRUE BENDING

Rome, (AP)—Joint action by Italy, France and England to change the status of Abyssinia from full-fledged membership in the League of Nations to that of a mandated territory under League auspices, is being recommended in many quarters here.

When the Ethiopian empire's protest against the border clash with Italy at Ualul comes before the League council, it is probably that Italy will ask for Abyssinia's expulsion from the League.

Called Admission Mistake

She will argue that the African monarchy never should have been admitted to the League, because the nation tolerates slavery and the slave trade and also because the country's borders are not fixed.

Both these points, says the Italian argument, violate fundamental principles of the League covenant.

The Affari Esteri (Foreign Affairs) review, which is published with government authorization, says with reference to Abyssinia that "France and Italy are persuaded of the necessity of making common cause in their own interests."

De Bono Takes Charge

Recently General Emilio De Bono, then minister of colonies, maintained the same thesis.

D Bono has gone to Eritrea and Somaliland to combine the administration of those colonies and to superintend the absorption into Eritrea of the strip of land France recently granted Italy from French Somaliland.

It is said in Colonial circles, however, that he also is to make a military survey of the colonies in view of increasingly complicated relations with Abyssinia. It is recalled that De Bono was a general in the regular Italian army before he joined Mussolini in the early days of fascism and became one of the four leaders of the famous "march on Rome." Later he was governor of Tripoli.

Says the Affari Esteri: "Diplomatic and consular missions have had occasion to inform the secretariat of the League of Nations of the precarious situation of white people in Abyssinia, of the fact that no protection was granted

He's Duce's Agent In African Clash

General Emilio De Bono, one of the four leaders of the "march on Rome" and since then a close associate of Il Duce, has gone to Africa to consolidate the colonies of Eritrea and Italian Somaliland whose relations with the neighboring empire of Abyssinia have become strained. Italy says the realm of Haile Selassie, "lion of the tribe of Judah," is arming.

Europe the most modern warlike anti-aircraft artillery, has the situation become clear for the great powers interested.

Modern Arms Imported

However, the political conditions and contrasting interests of the great powers prevented a collective action for the cessation of a state of affairs which represents an ever growing menace to the peace harmony of the races in Africa.

"Only this year, after Ethiopia imported from western and central Europe the most modern warlike anti-aircraft artillery, has the situation become clear for the great powers interested."

After announcing outright that France and Italy will make common cause with reference to Abyssinia, the review says England has no direct interest in the question of Abyssinian independence, but would join with France and Italy owing to Abyssinia's propaganda of "Africa for the Africans."

FATHER BUNTEN TO PREACH AT HOLY CROSS CANDLE MASS

At the Church of the Holy Cross on Pine Grove avenue the annual "service of lights" will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It will consist of sung evensong of the feast of the purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary or presentation of Christ in the Temple, followed by the solemn blessing of the supply of altar candles for the year and the distributing of them individually to members of the congregation. The procession of clergy, sisters and people will follow, each holding a lighted candle. The children are especially invited to join.

Special music will be sung by the choir. Next there will be a sermon by Father Buntent of Poughkeepsie, benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, and the St. Blasius blessing of throats, which will be given at the close of all services during the day.

The guest preacher on this occasion will be the Rev. Roland Jay Buntent, rector of St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie, since 1926. A native of Bridgeport, Conn., he was graduated with honors from Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and was engaged in business and teaching before entering the priesthood. He served as rector of Holy Innocents' Church, Highland Falls, previous to going to Poughkeepsie.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 1. (AP)—Raising its output 50 per cent over January, the assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company today started a schedule calling for 313 units daily for February.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 1. (AP)—Convicted that memories of the trek in 1918 have vanished, the sons of St. Patrick today were busy organizing a parade for their patron saint's day next month and hoping for a break in the weather.

Thousands of Irishmen and their friends tramped up main street on March 17, 17 years ago, in 10 below zero weather. That was the last St. Patrick's day parade in Buffalo.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 1. (AP)—Wilbur B. Sprague, 60, insurance man and educator, is dead at his home today after a lingering illness. He served as a teacher in Troy, N. Y., and Newton, Mass., and as superintendent of schools in Durham and Winchendon, Mass., and Utica, N. Y. He entered the insurance field after serving nine years in the latter post. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Miss Janet G. Sprague, Boston, and Mrs. J. L. Ritchie, New Rochelle, and a son, Wilbur B. Sprague, Jr., of Norwich, N. Y.

Court Rules in Bertrand Case

New York, Jan. 31. (Special)—An order was signed yesterday in United States District Court here by Judge Francis G. Caffey, calling on Mrs. Caroline Bertrand and her husband, Paul Bertrand, of Freehold, town of Greenville, to show cause why their combined suit for $14,000 damages, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, should not be discontinued in the Supreme Court, Greene county, while the question of removal to the Federal Court is pending.

Mrs. Bertrand seeks $10,000 for injuries she received on January 3 while a passenger on the train "Tellico Blythe," en route from Huntington, N. J., to New York. The train struck a motor truck at Dean's Junction and was derailed. Mr. Bertrand is suing $4,000 for loss of his wife's services.

MODES of the moment

Black lace adds fascination to this stunning jacket dinner gown.

Liana Merwin

Who could dispute the charm and fascination of filmy black lace? Many of the very newest and smartest of dinner and formal gowns are fashioned of lace, some are shown in pale laces, such as bon-bon pink, Dresden blue, egg-shell and white. Black lace, however, is highly favored and more in demand.

The versatile dinner gown shown above is done in black chantilly lace and makes an equally pretty picture with or without the jacket. The finely pleated treatment around the bodice forms a frilled bouffant at the termination of the low back décolleté. This gown snugly molds the hips and falls into a full, gracefully trailing hemline. The bodice at front gives quite a high waisted effect.

When the short jacket is donned, the gown immediately becomes a very modest looking affair with a shimmering touch at the neckline. The pleated trimming is repeated at the jacket front and at the end of the long sleeves. Scintillating rhinestone buttons nestle in the lace at front and back ruffling.

The jacket, ending at the waistline, allows the bouffant at back to show and balance nicely with the frilled trimming at front.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1583-B

Frock and Bloomers for Tots from Two to Six

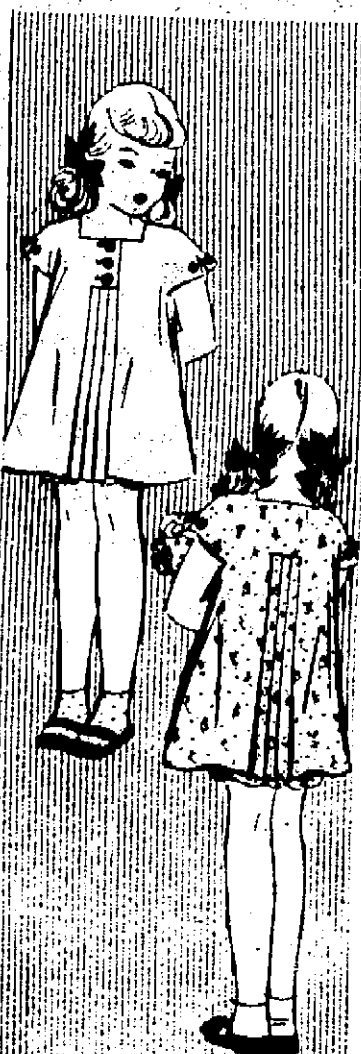

Making children's clothes can be lots of fun, if the material is pretty and the pattern easy to use. Anyone with the dressmaking urge will respond to this design, for the entire outfit is made from six pattern pieces—four for the dress and two for the bloomers.

Tailored styles for children have never before been so charming. This little dress demonstrates the spread of smooth, sloping shoulders, square necklines, central openings and fullness, held in reserve by well-pressed dart pleats. All the details of adult fashions are quaintly echoed in the clothes shown for the youngest members of the family.

This little number is delightful in plain gingham, dimity, seersucker, linen or lawn. Buttons may be matched to the fabric, or they may carry the idea of contrast out.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1583-B is designed in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 years requires about 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for dress and bloomers.

Tomorrow: Matron's coat-dress.

The patches are simple to make and can either be slip-stitched on, turning under the edges or buttonholed on, using a raw edge. The rest of the figure is done in simple embroidery. A bedspread, a scarf, pillows and many accessories are lovely decorated with these quaint figures.

In Pattern 5286 you will find a transfer pattern of 12 motifs 4x5 1/2 inches; a pattern piece for the applique dresses and bonnets; directions for applique; illustrations of all stitches used; material requirements and color suggestions.

Mother's Cook Book

A FEW FROSTINGS

WHEN a frosting is desired which may be used in a pastry tube, the following is especially good:

Butter Frosting.

Blend two tablespoons of creamed butter very gradually with two cups of confectioner's sugar, adding one to two tablespoons of boiling milk or water, a very little at a time, to make it of the proper consistency to force through the pastry tube or bag. Add flavor and coloring to taste.

Frosting for Cake.

Boil one-half cupful of sugar with three tablespoons of water and one teaspoonful of vinegar until the syrup spins a thread. Pour hot over the stiffly beaten white of an egg, add a few grains of salt and a half teaspoonful of vanilla. Spread over the cake and sprinkle with coconut.

Nougat Ice Cream.

Mix one quart of thin cream, three cups of heavy cream and one cupful of milk. Boil one and one-half cups of sugar and one-half cupful of water two minutes, cool and add to the cream. Add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half teaspoons of vanilla and one-half teaspoonful of almond extract. Mix one-half cupful each of chopped walnuts or hickory nuts with blanched almonds, add to the mixture and freeze. Pack three or four hours to ripen.

Chocolate Rice Pudding.

Soak four tablespoons of rice in one pint of milk one-half hour, add one teaspoonful of salt, and cook in a double boiler until the rice is tender. Mix two tablespoons of butter with two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, two squares of melted chocolate, one-half cupful of seeded raisins cut fine, one teaspoonful of vanilla and the rich mixture, one-half cupful of heavy cream whipped and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven. Spread with a meringue and brown in the oven. Serve with a hard sauce.

Baked Ham

Baked Ham

9 pound ham 1 cup pineapple juice
1 cup brown sugar 1/2 cup orange juice
24 whole cloves 1/4 cup vinegar
Scrub ham and cut off rind. Fit into baking pan. Press cloves in fat side and top ham with sugar. Add half rest of ingredients. Cover and bake 2 hours in slow oven. Baste every 20 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and bake another 2 hours or until ham is very tender when tested with long handled fork.
If desired the ham can be boiled 2 hours in water to cover and then baked 1 1/2 hours in slow oven.
This method of cooking produces a deliciously flavored ham, provided care is taken in the actual baking, as the ham must be basted often and watched not to have too much heat.

Sweet Potato Soufflé

3 cups mashed sweet potatoes 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons 1/2 teaspoon vanilla cream
Mix ingredients and roughly pile in buttered baking dish. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

Macaroni Dessert

(Creamy and Tasty)
1 cup crushed macaroni (almond)
1 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
2 cups milk 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon granulated gelatin 1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Beat yolks and sugar and milk and cook in double boiler until mixture thickens a little. Be careful not to over-cook. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into loaf or individual molds which have been rinsed out with cold water. Chill. Unmold and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Look at this fascinating home ensemble in tweedy cotton in yellow and brown—dress and matching apron. The dress plays a dual role. It serves to do a hundred and one tasks about the house, and yet is smart enough to wear to market. Thus in a surprising manner, house frocks and sports type frocks meet on the same ground—or rather in the same pattern. The paneled apron lends figure flattery.

Style No. 2689 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inch bust. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 23-inch material with 12 1/2 yards of binding and 3 1/2 yards of 3-inch ribbon for bow.

KEEP ON

TOP O' THE WORLD

When you're feeling well, you're usually happy. Life is at its best. But when you're sick and blue, days lose their zest. You lack enthusiasm.

Common constipation, due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, is an enemy of happy living. It frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal persons. It furnishes generous "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this gentle food safer than risking patent medicines? Unlike cathartics, it remains effective with continued use. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Executed by Firing Squads for Treason

Oviedo, Spain, Feb. 1 (P).—Joaquín Argüelles Fernandez, a civilian leader in the October rebellion, and Sergeant Vazquez, another participant, were executed by firing squads for treason today.

Vazquez was shot by a squad selected from his companions in his own garrison and in the barracks where he had served. He spent the night talking with his sweetheart, his father and a priest.

At dawn he drank coffee with cognac and was escorted to the front of the barracks where the regiment was drawn up in formation with its band, a company of legionnaires, and a battery of artillery.

The entire garrison stood at attention as Sergeant Vazquez was shot down.

Argüelles was executed in the patio of the prison by a firing squad of legionnaires.

Mrs. E. Van Keuren and Harold F. DeGraff of Kingston called on friends in this place Tuesday evening.

Two Men Killed, 12 Injured in a Blast

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 1 (P).—Two men were killed and a dozen injured today by gas which leaked into a 10-story furniture store building and exploded.

The dead were Michael Delaney, night watchman in the Ludwig Baumann furniture store and Police Sergeant George Nadler of Emergency Squad 13.

Delaney was found asphyxiated in the basement of the building by an investigator for a burglar alarm company and a patrolman who broke into the building after Delaney failed to ring his signal.

Sergeant Nadler was killed by the explosion over the entrance of the store which fell on him when the gas in the building exploded while the emergency squad was trying to revive Delaney and Henry Kramer, night fireman in the building who was taken out unconscious when Delaney was found.

The explosion in which Nadler was killed injured three patrolmen, four newspaper reporters and several bystanders who were watching the rescue work.

Police said gas company workers discovered a break in a gas line under the street near the building.

Townsend Describes Scheme to Committee

Washington, Feb. 1 (P).—Dr. F. E. Townsend, author of a pension plan to give $200 a month to all persons over 60 years of age, was given an opportunity today to describe his scheme to a congressional committee considering the administration's proposals for social security legislation.

The house ways and means committee restricted its witness list to 10 persons, instead of the usual 15 to 20, so that the rule limiting witnesses to five minutes each might be waived if Dr. Townsend needed the time.

The Townsend bill already has been described by numerous witnesses as "unworkable," "wishful thinking," "idiotic" and the like.

Secretary Morgenthau will testify Tuesday on the financial aspects of the administration's bill, which would pay $30 a month to the aged.

Meanwhile, the drive of Townsendites to obtain congressional support of their proposal continues. Members say they are receiving batches of postcards in every mail. Some ask them to "compromise" if necessary on $75 a month. The cards usually address the congressmen by their first names and are signed familiarly as "Bob," "Bill," "Ethel," or other names so that the recipients are not certain that they do not come from old friends.

One of our friends says he has the ideal radio: It is absolutely guaranteed not to get any station.

Home-Owners' Loan Bill May Be Delayed

Washington, Feb. 1 (P).—Administration officials were put on notice today by a House leader that some delay appeared in store for their bill to increase the capital of the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

The warning was issued by Chairman O'Connor (D., N. Y.) of the rules committee. He said a number of members were "interested" in an investigation proposed by Rep. Sweeney (D., Ohio) into operations of the HOLC.

The HOLC bill—which is expected to ask from $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 in new capital—has not been drafted. The first day Congress met, however, President Roosevelt put the bill on his "must" list.

"We've got to look into this negligence on the part of the HOLC employees," he said. "(John) Fahy (HOLC chairman) admitted to three of us the other day that 10 state managers have been removed for negligence or inability or some other cause since the HOLC started functioning. We ought to find out about that."

"The whole thing has been a series of colossal blunders."

Card Party.

The Lucretia Rebekah Lodge, No. 233, of Ulster Park will hold a card party over Randall's store February 11 at 8:30. Progressive pinocle and bridge will be played. Refreshments will be served and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Borah-Johnson Rift Is Ended

Washington, Feb. 1 (P).—Mutual friends said today that a 23-year-old split between Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and Johnson (R-Cal.), has been completely closed by their victorious leadership of the fight against the world court. Back in 1912, when Theodore Roosevelt was launching his "Bull Moose" campaign, Johnson followed Roosevelt, and was his vice-presidential nominee. Borah stuck with his party and supported President Taft. Since then their paths have crossed many times, but they have walked separately.

Borah and Johnson have fought many a battle together, but they fought grimly and silently. Then the world court came along again. They were the only Republicans left of that little band that battled years ago to keep America out of the court.

The situation forced the two together. Then came the unexpected uphill victory. Friends of the two say they have plans to work together in the future.

A. F. of L. Won't Accept The Automobile Code

Washington, Feb. 1 (P).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today that organized labor would "not accept" the automobile code extended by President Roosevelt last night until June 15.

He made the statement to a Senate judiciary subcommittee considering the Black 30-hour week bill in these words:

"We protest against this code. We will not accept it, not recognize it, not yield on it."

Green said the code had "absolutely failed" to spread work because under it the workers are compelled or required to work almost unlimited hours at the discretion of the automobile manufacturers.

A recent ballot conducted among automobile workers by the national automobile labor board was reported to have shown 90 per cent of those voting opposed to A. F. of L. affiliation.

625 Miners Emerge for Parley With Officials

Pecs, Hungary, Feb. 1 (P).—Exhausted from hunger and cold after 35 hours of self-imposed imprisonment in the dark depths of a coal mine, the remaining 625 hunger-striking miners who went below ground yesterday emerged from the pits at 2:30 p. m. today and declared themselves ready to negotiate with the mine owners.

The exit of the 625 cleared the pits of strikers, for 73 of the number who went below ground previously had emerged.

When the last group came up they released the 40 socialist coal miners whom they had held as hostages.

At the same time it was rumored that the mine owners were expected to grant a 10 per cent increase in salaries.

Lincoln Patented Apparatus To Save Boats From Shoals

Washington (AP)—As an inventor, Abraham Lincoln was like thousands of others whose patents take up space in the commerce department building.

Inventing something is an American habit, and the patent office for the most part confines itself to deciding whether the idea is new. Out-and-out avowals of perpetual motion devices don't get anywhere with the examiners, and Lincoln's steamboat apparatus scarcely seems of more practical use.

No Evidence Of Use
Issued to "Abraham Lincoln, of Springfield in the County of Sangamon & State of Illinois." It is "a new and improved manner of combining adjustable buoyant chambers with steam boats or other vessels." The application, made out in Lincoln's own handwriting, was approved on May 22, 1849, but patent records to-day disclose no evidence of its use. Lincoln, who in his youth worked on a flatboat, evidently was struck with the troubles vessels encountered on sand bars. He intended to do something about it.

For Clearing Shoals
He proposed that the chambers, made of waterproof cloth in accordion fashion, be expanded and lowered into the water whenever a boat approached shoals. The rest of the time they were to be kept in boxes overhanging the water.

A central shaft was to operate ropes controlling the chambers, and accompanying drawings showed that "it will therefore be perceived, that by turning the main shaft C, in one direction, the buoyant chambers will be expanded and by turning the shaft in an opposite direction, the chambers will be contracted."

Twelve brothers and sisters in Germany have a combined age of 730 years. What a wonderful family set-up for the Townsend pension plan.

Trying to follow the evidence of that kidnapping trial, a reader may well recall Lord Bacon's remark: "What is truth?" said jesting Pilate, and waited not for an answer."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Notund, amiable Charles Laughton likes his heavy dramatics seasoned with laughter. When Laughton broods upon the screen, swayed by the tragic muse in a moment of internal conflict, demons of gaiety are lurking on the sidelines. Laughton is a comedian; let him play sinister maniacs and mentally warped humans (ill the crack of doom, and he still is a comedian, a fellow to whom the least visitation of tomfoolery is something to snort at and greet with laughter. He has a razor-keen sense of the ridiculous.

"The best pictures, even though they are emotional and tragic in theme, are those made with laughing and fun on the sidelines," he says. "It stands to reason that actors who are enjoying themselves are going to do better work, doesn't it?"

Laughs At Muffed Lines

He illustrates with a tense scene from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." On the screen this looked as though it were the last word in deadly earnestness. On the screen, it was. When they were making it, Laughton "blew up" on his lines, burst into laughter, and that amused Maurice Chevalier so much he couldn't go on. By the time Laughton had "blown up" five times, everybody on the set, from Norma Shearer and Fredric March to the "juicers," was in riable hysterics—including Laughton.

"When you're doing a scene like that," he points out, "you have to remember that there's a chance the audience will laugh at you anyway." So Laughton believes in beating the audience to the draw, and it's strange, but it works—at least with Laughton. The English actor had such a good time making "Ruggles of Red Gap," incidentally, that he seriously declares he would be willing to give up his contracts if in return he could work exclusively under the direction of Leo McCarey, who seems to agree with him that laughter is important.

Royalties Outstrip Debts

The late Edgar Wallace, prolific novelist, playwright, and scenarist, left an estate composed mostly of debts—and royalties. And now the royalties have so far caught up with the debts, says a friend of the family, that all are paid and there is a more than comfortable income.

An actress whose name once meant more than it does now is getting along because that old idea about big movie incomes continues. She can rent a house on her name, even if she can't pay the rent.

Attractiveness of Youth
Part of the attractiveness of youth is the power of being able to be great interested of feeling intensely about common things, and so giving the mind a glow and warmth which is exceedingly attractive.

Held For Treason

Richard Rolden (above), formerly of Cleveland and Chicago, is an other United States citizen who has run afoul of Nazi officials in Germany. He is expected to be arraigned in Berlin on a charge of treason because of writings found in his notebook as he was about to enter the country. (Associated Press Photo)

Did you give a cheerful greeting to the friend who came along? Or a churlish sort of "Howdy," and then vanish in the throng? Were you selfish, pure and simple, as you rushed along the way? Or is some one mighty grateful for a deed you did today?

Woman—You can't believe all you hear.
Neighbor—No, but you can repeat it.

A depression seems to put all the retired actors and actresses back into circulation.

Girl—I made this cake all by myself.
Boy—Yes, I can understand that, but who helped you to lift it out of the oven?

In matrimony the first hundred days are the easiest.

Two drunks were staggering home at an early hour of the morning, when they got into an argument about the sun and the moon.
First Drunk—I'll betcha $25 thash the moon!

Second Drunk—I'll jush cover it. Thash the sun.

Stopping a man who chanced to come that way, they asked him to settle the argument for them.

Stranger (apologizing)—Sorry, (relash, but I'm a stranger in these parts).

Although painful, the lessons learned during the depression are useful.

Some people require very little sleep, says an eminent scientist. And, evidently, as soon as they find out about it, those people move into our neighborhood.

Wife—That child doesn't get his temper from me.
Husband—No, there is none of yours missing.

We are very curious to know what goes on at the broadcasting station that makes people laugh so hard at the comedians.

Jones—So you don't advise me to go there for my vacation? They advertise good meals.
Smith—Yes! You are them—for the mosquitoes around there.

As far as crooners are concerned, how about a coast-to-coast hush-up?

Horace—Well, Howard, you look miserable. What's wrong?
Howard—I am up to the neck in debt.

Howard—It cannot be as bad as all that.
Howard—It is. My hat is the only thing I've paid for.

First they save the farmer by paying him more; then they save the town worker by raising his wages; then they charge the farmer more for the things made by the town worker.

Tramp—All I ask is to be given work in my line. But I must be provided with the proper equipment.
Citizen—What is your trade?
Tramp—I'm a capitalist.

The fact that you can shut your eyes to the truth does not keep it from being the truth, and you can't get about with shut eyes, so face it.

A young naval student was being put through the paces by an old sea captain.

Captain—What would you do if a sudden storm sprang up on the starboard?

Naval Student—Throw out an anchor, sir.
Captain—What would you do if another storm sprang up?

Naval Student—Throw out another anchor, sir.
Captain—And if a terrible storm sprang up forward, what would you do?

Naval Student—Throw out another anchor.
Captain—Hold on, where are you getting all your anchors from?

Naval Student—From the same place you're getting your storms, sir.

Meadville, Pa.—Going 'round the schoolhouse is no fun for motorists in Summerhill township.
Because the old school burned, supervisors decided to move another one to the site.
But some citizens objected, right in the middle of the moving.
So there the schoolhouse sits, in the middle of the main highway. A court hearing will settle matters.

Demand Bid
New York—The boys in the Harris county jail in Houston, Texas, want to improve their bridge and they're going to have the benefit of an expert's counsel.

Some of the long term prisoners, short of cash, delegated Eduardo Casas to write to Ely Culbertson for one of his bridge books.
"It doesn't matter at all if it's soiled," the prisoner wrote.
Culbertson sent them a copy of his latest book.

Side-Tracked
St. Paul—Two men, obviously strangers, entered an elevator at the courthouse and asked to be taken to the "Hauptmann courtroom."
The elevator operator, Gus Fischer, at first believed they were kidding.
"Why that's not in this building," he replied. "It's in the postoffice so far as I know."
"We don't know where that is," the pair said, and Fischer, convinced they were serious, explained the Hauptmann trial was being held at Flemington, N. J.

STATE WOULD DISCREDIT TESTIMONY OF ALIBI WITNESS

The prosecution in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at Flemington, N. J., for the Lindbergh kidnap-murder sought to discredit the testimony of Elvert Carlstrom, unemployed carpenter, who claimed on the witness stand in Hauptmann's behalf that he saw the German carpenter in the Bronx bakery where Mrs. Hauptmann worked on the night of the kidnaping. Esther Wilson (left), pretty blonde Bronx manicurist, denied that Carlstrom (shown center in Hunterdon court) visited her on the night in question. Arthur Larsen (right) claims that Carlstrom never left Dunellen, N. J., on that night. (Associated Press Photos)

PICTURE OF HAUPTMANN RECEIVING ENCOURAGEMENT

SUPPORTS HAUPTMANN DOG STORY

Supporting evidence that Bruno Richard Hauptmann, instead of kidnapping the Lindbergh baby on the night of March 1, 1932, was spending time in a Bronx bakery taking a coffee day for a court, was given by Louis Kline (above), who said he saw Hauptmann enter the bakery with the dog. On cross-examination Kline admitted he sometimes booby-trapped runs. The witness is shown at the trial at Flemington, N. J. (Associated Press Photos)

Defiant French Veterans Challenge Flandin Dictum Against Political Armies

By JOHN EVANS

Paris (AP)—Open defiance of the government by veterans and a threat to "sweep out" the cabinet have envenomed the political atmosphere.

Marching columns of the famous "Croix de Feu" may again enforce their will as they did on "bloody Tuesday" last February 4 when Paris crowds battled the police. Thousands were hurt and 20 died of wounds.

Premier Flandin, seeking to placate both right and left groups, incurred the displeasure of both.

Veterans Dare Flandin

The right, through Colonel Francois de La Rocque, chief of the "Croix de Feu," all veterans decorated for valor under fire, challenged Flandin to dissolve his group.

"True veterans," he wrote in an open letter, "will not tolerate that a man of their age, one who has not been under fire, should dare to give them lessons in civic duty."

Flandin, long pressed by former Premier Herriot and left groups to dissolve France's "shadow army," drilled and possibly armed by political factions, contented himself with saying:

"What good are these leagues on a war footing? Let them send their members back to work."

Premier Defies Threats

La Rocque's swift answer was to have his columns march in forbidden procession at Amiens and to warn the government.

"We are menaced with dissolution but if there is a dissolution we will not dissolve. Those in power are dependent upon us but we are not dependent upon them."

"Let them do their duty if they do not wish to be swept out by the wave of national morality out of which grew the Croix de Feu movement."

Premier Flandin declared, "I will never agree to govern under threat."

Dissolution of the various leagues is a seething undercurrent. Estimates of the "troops" were 350,000 last summer but since then there admittedly has been heavy but often secret recruiting, the "Croix de Feu" alone having increased from 25,000 to an estimated 200,000.

Defies Premier

Col. Francois de La Rocque, leader of the "Croix de Feu," militant organization of French veterans, says his men will not disband despite advice to that effect by Premier Flandin.

Trade In Arms Restricted

Many of these organizations have shown their strength by well drilled marching, now prohibited. Both sides charge the others are armed and have big arsenals.

Police raids seldom bring big results but the situation became so dangerous that Marshal Petain when still Minister of War last summer tightened restrictions on arms at all frontiers and the cabinet offered laws to control sales.

None deny that if these groups ever get into action there would be something more serious than the riots of "bloody Tuesday" when the Chamber of Deputies was besieged and guards fired on the crowds.

LONDON CONFERENCE MAY MAKE EUROPEAN HISTORY

Diplomats anxiously awaited news from a conference of these statesmen in London where the whole course of European affairs relating to security, disarmament and other policies may be determined as a result of the visit of Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin (upper right) of France and his foreign minister, Pierre Laval (lower right). They hoped to reach an understanding on European problems with Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald (left) of Great Britain, and Sir John Simon (center), the foreign secretary. ## CAPITAL NEWS

HOLLISTER STURGES, Jr.

Albany, Feb. 1 (Special)—Rejoicing over his two legislative victories that were won on Thursday by passage of the bill abolishing the farms and markets councils and the Joseph-Pack measure for mortgage guarantees, the state chief executive is now in better form to face the hue and cry that pours into the Capitol protesting his tax increase program. In spite of extra levying for the approaching fiscal year the fact remains that more money is needed by the state. Governor Lehman announced yesterday that he has received a surprisingly number of commendatory letters and messages upholding his recommendation to increase the gasoline tax, which is the hotbed of discussion. Only about 25 per cent of criticism has been registered this year in comparison with two years ago when taxes were raised. In all fairness to the governor and his advisors, it should be noted that because there is no choice but to increase the tax burden that their selection of seeking new revenues has been established as fairly as possible under the existing emergency. Demands are being registered for a legislative hearing on the entire budget by numerous organizations that have been angered by the governor's refusal to increase highway construction appropriations after increasing the gas tax by $16,000,000. But car users might well remember that the crack corps of State troopers, local police officials, snow removal, stoplights, and many other contributory factors that make motoring and other uses of public highways safe are not charged up to taxes yielded by motorists, but from other revenue.

The day was marked in the executive chamber with many reports of congratulations to the governor for his appointment of Peter G. Ten Eyck as the new head of the Agriculture Department. Lehman promised to pick the best man in the state for this job, and thousands have endorsed his choice.

More about taxes—It was humorously explained that under the new law, if passed by the legislature, on unincorporated businesses requiring a 1 per cent tax on net profits in excess of $5,000, salaries of the proprietor may be charged up to operating expenses, so that J. P. Morgan must limit his salary to $5,000, which is considered reasonable under the new law, and can therefore receive exemption only up to this amount. Any additional income will be taxed. Other millionaires will be similarly affected.

A new blow to bite the heel of crime is being cut by the legislature. Republican Assemblyman Richard H. Strong, of Rochester, introduced a bill providing for a constitutional amendment for the creation of a state department of justice with extraordinary police powers, and legislation calling for the immediate organization of such a department to take the constitutional amendment to the voters. This new branch is the offspring of the Republican party's agenda when the legislature and county election law members in the month. During the federal government is demonstrating the way to cope with criminals. Mr. Strong feels that such a department has to be organized during the brief for "Dough" politics, termination of the "Roosevelt the 1934 Amendment" days, there is no question that his apprehension would have taken far less time.

"There have been reports in the press," stated the introducer, "that a number of New York city police could have picked up Schultz at will had they wanted to badly enough. This was prior to the appointment of Police Commissioner Valentine. However, when Mayor LaGuardia and Commissioner Valentine went out word, 'get Schultz—or else,' the Bronx racketeer is reported to have fled Manhattan and repaired to a Catskill rendezvous."

Three important amendments to the election laws are being digested by the legislative members. Sponsored by Democratic Saul S. Streiff of New York, the first provides where a person is an enrolled member of a political party his or her signature to an independent certificate of nomination shall not be counted if before or after the filing of certificate by the same person named in the independent certificate is a candidate of the political party. The second eliminates possibilities of forgery of signatures to petitions, and the third does away with unnecessary contests and hearings before the board of elections and the courts.

First month of the 1935 session has passed. A brief review of accomplishment show:

Nearly half of Governor Herbert H. Lehman's program bills passed by the two houses.

Dethroning of the veteran Joseph A. McGinnies from his ten-year tenure of speakership in the Assembly due to first Democratic majority in 21 years, and his replacement by youthful Irving M. Ives as new minority leader.

The "gone but not forgotten" fight over the Child Labor Amendment. Bigwigs for it include President Roosevelt, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, and in person New York's Mayor F. H. LaGuardia.

Public hearing over with on the insurance situation; headaches for some. Instant relief for others.

Executive budget message taken all at one dose—not yet completely assimilated.

Dramatic climax of the month by passage of two vital bills on the mortgage authority and farm-and-markets acts.

RFC Begins Its Fourth Year Today

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP).—Rescued from extinction at the eleventh hour, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation began its fourth year today as a major part of the administration's recovery efforts.

But for the fact that President Roosevelt signed last night a law extending its lending life for two years, the RFC would have become a mere agency for liquidating its assets. With it gone, all government lending to banks, railroads and business would have stopped.

The new law gave the RFC even more power than before. Already the world's greatest lending bank, with a record of disbursements totaling more than $7,000,000,000, the agency now can be more liberal in loans to industry and can seek to bolster the real estate mortgage market through buying stock in solvent mortgage associations.

Another new provision authorizes loans up to an aggregate of $10,000,000 to companies engaged in mining, gold, silver and tin.

Originally started under the Hoover administration as a means of transferring credit blood into the veins of the banks, the powers of the corporation have been gradually enlarged and its charges for loans reduced steadily.

Although the greatest bank in the world, the corporation handles little, if any, money. Its funds are in the custody of the United States Treasury and the Federal Reserve Banks. Its notes are paid through the Reserve Banks and its collections made by branch offices and the banks through the Treasury and has procured something over $3,000,000,000 in that way.

Its chairman, Jesse Jones, was present last night at the White House when the President signed the bill.

Social Security Bill Delay Is Predicted

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP).—Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee said today "there is not a chance in the world" for congress to pass the administration's social security bill by mid-February as Secretary Perkins has urged.

Harrison predicted there would be changes in the program, noting that there was "a great diversity of opinion" among members of his committee. But he said that on the whole the measure would be approved.

Secretary Perkins and other administration officials have urged congressional leaders to speed action so that the bill can be written into the statute books in time for subsequent action by the many state legislatures now meeting.

Harrison said today, however, that his committee hearings would last at least two weeks more. As the end of the second week of hearings approached today, the committee had still to hear further administration experts. After they have finished scores of outsiders will be heard.

One objection to the bill voiced by some members of Harrison's committee has been that it would "coerce" the states by permitting the federal government to judge whether they were doing enough for themselves to warrant federal aid.

Christmas Seals Are a Big Factor

The "Little Red" in Saranac Lake where Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau cared for two tuberculosis patients, will be moved next week to a more conspicuous site on the grounds of the Trudeau Sanitarium. This is done so that the hundreds who annually visit the sanitarium to inspect its facilities may find this most interesting relic of early days more easily available.

It has been preserved with the same old-fashioned beds and simple furnishings with which it was originally equipped.

This year the 50th anniversary of its construction, the tiny building received an even greater fame. The Christmas Seals of this year, carries its picture and models of the cottage were on display in many communities.

Great progress has been made since that time in the prevention and cure of tuberculosis and the tiny Christmas Seals have helped greatly in this work. They represent the systematic effort on the part of the Tuberculosis Association to bring preventive measures to bear in cases in which the disease is threatened and thus to check its spread. Records show that these preventive measures are wonderfully effective in this country.

The seals afford an opportunity for the least and the best of our citizens to enroll themselves as in sympathy with this, the most humanitarian movement of the century.

If those who have not remitted for seals are as generous as the author contributors, it will be possible to carry on all the work as planned for this year.

Two Chinese Killed
Nagasaki, Feb. 1 (AP).—Two Russian guards aboard the S. S. Yung-chow, carrying 75 American, British and Canadian war prisoners, were killed by mines according to a report today to the China Navy. The Chinese second engineer of the ship, which is under British registry, K. McQuinn, was reported wounded. The crewmen were ordered to leave the ship during the battle for possession of the ship.

Several more convictions, more speeches, more publicity, more loans, more expert advice, and progress in spite of everything.

PICTURE COST HALF MILLION

President's Cake For TB Patients

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital are the grateful recipients of the President Roosevelt birthday cake from the Birthday Ball held at Golden Rule Inn, January 30.

Mrs. Joan Dwyer Goldrick, chairman of the ball informed Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, president of the auxiliary that her committee had decided to send the lovely cake to the patients. This cake was made especially for the occasion of the ball by the Golden Rule chef and is being donated by the management to the committee who in turn are presenting it to the hospital.

Maybe the poor are still getting poorer, but the rich don't seem to be getting richer any more.

To Demand Hearing On Governor's Budget

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1 (AP).—A demand for a legislative hearing on Governor Herbert H. Lehman's budget will be made within the next few days by organizations interested in improved roads.

This was revealed today by a representative of the organizations. At the same time, it was learned efforts were already being made to enlist the aid of the 2,500,000 motorists of the state in a campaign against the budget.

Leading the fight are officers of the State Highway Users Conference, the State Construction Council, and the state automobile association.

They made it clear that they were angry because the governor refused to reconsider his recommendation for an additional one cent tax on gasoline, making the total levy four cents a gallon. They also object to the revenue from the gasoline tax being used for purposes other than highway construction.

Their campaign against the budget calls for two moves:

1.—Demanding a public hearing on the entire budget, a thing unheard of in recent years.

2.—Having a bill introduced appropriating $20,000,000 for highways in addition to the $23,000,000 granted by the governor.

Hints that there might be a hearing on the budget came from Republican leaders immediately after the measure was presented to the legislature, but nothing more was heard until today.

Meanwhile, Governor Lehman declared that he was well satisfied with the reception given his tax proposals by the people. The number of protests reaching his office, he said, was only about 25 per cent of the number received two years ago when he offered a new tax program.

Defense Attorneys Disclaim "Fisch Myth"

would be February 23, and not March 1.

In The Record

Relly said the defense joined with the state in asking the hospital records to be incorporated in the court record.

"We welcome it," Both defense and state agreed to stipulate February had 23 days in the leap year 1932 and that one week after February 22 that year was February 23. The stipulation was to avoid the necessity of having a 1932 calendar admitted in evidence.

Justice Trenchard said the record would show the stipulated facts.

Relly resumed questioning of J. M. Trendley, the handwriting expert. The witness told of examining the Hauptmann writings, the ransom notes and the charts of the state experts.

Q. As a result of your study, are you in a position to render an opinion as to whether Hauptmann wrote the ransom notes?

A. In my opinion, he did not.

Relly directed the bespectacled expert to direct his attention to the handwriting charts prepared by Albert S. Osborn, the first handwriting authority who appeared for the state.

Trendley, in response to a question, said his examination of the charts of all the state experts showed they did not use the same characters and words as Osborn's as a basis for comparison. He added some experts used some of the same letters and words but not all of them.

Picks Out Letters Relly asked Trendley to pick out from the Osborn charts the "D" in "Dear Sir" of the first ransom note.

Trendley said neither the letter nor the entire word "Dear" was among the Osborn exhibits.

Trendley examined the Osborn charts further and asserted the word "sir" of "Dear Sir" and the exclamation point following were not depicted.

Relly took the nursery note and letter by letter had Trendley tell the jury Dr. Osborn had not included the characters pointed out in his photographic chart already in evidence.

While the smoke from the pipe of Elmer Hann, the court clerk, drifted into the courtroom through the open door of the judge's chambers, Trendley continued his recital of lack of similarities in certain words of Hauptmann's writing and the ransom notes.

Q. Did you examine the handwriting of other persons particularly Isador Fisch?

A. Yes.

Relly's question was the first implication of the day that the defense might seek to prove Fisch, Hauptmann's dead business partner, was the writer of the ransom notes.

The slow recital and examination of the charts continued. Some of the jurors watched. Others gazed about the room. A bag of cough drops was passed among them.

Crowd Is Restless.

The restless movement and coughing in the crowd increased.

As Relly finished examining Trendley on each line of the nursery note and bringing out the words and characters were not shown on the Osborn charts, he asked each time:

"Am I correct, then, Mr. Trendley, that these lines do not appear on Mr. Osborn's charts and that you have taken these lines into consideration in forming your opinion?"

"I have," was always the answer.

Relly suddenly interrupted his interrogation on the ransom note to inquire what "the pattern of a hand" meant in handwriting.

"The method of the formation of the letters," replied Trendley.

Q. In photographs is it possible to retrace the pattern of a handwriting by the use of the retouching pencil on the negative?

A. No.

Q. Can lines be made longer or shorter by retouching a negative?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Is it possible then to distort writing by the way a negative is printed?

A. Yes, you can do all that with photography.

Q. Is it possible to produce a different slant by the way a writing is photographed?

A. Yes.

Q. And a different shading of the pen strokes?

A. I think you could do so.

Q. If the photographs were made in an artificial kind of light, wouldn't that make a difference?

A. I don't think so.

listlessness. The jurors listened to the middleweight expert by fits and starts. The audience whispered in surreptitious conversation. The three most interested persons in the room apparently were Hauptmann, Col. Lindbergh and Justice Trenchard. Mrs. Hauptmann looked bored. The testimony droned on, punctuated occasionally by the boom of Relly's voice as he asked a question.

Relly referred to the "were" intended to be "where" in the nursery note. He said it was "a peculiar word, an important word; it sticks out."

Trendley examined the charts and reported neither the word nor any combination of its letters was shown.

Q. Did you hear Mr. Osborn say he examined the ransom notes, particularly the nursery note?

A. Yes.

Trendley said there was a difference between Hauptmann's "the" and those in the nursery note. Osborn, he added, had failed to photograph the nursery note "the."

Relly asked Trendley if he considered the "Y" of the nursery note a very distinctive characteristic, and the expert said they were.

Produces a Card

The defense chief then produced a Christmas card bearing some handwriting not identified and inquired if there was any similarity.

Langkan objected to the production of the card, and Relly agreed to argue the point at sidebar during a recess which followed almost immediately.

During the recess Relly denied the defense planned by its handwriting experts to accuse Isador Fisch, Hauptmann's dead business partner, of penning the ransom notes.

"We never contended Fisch wrote the notes or that he perpetrated the crime," he said. "I believe that he got the ransom money. We don't know who wrote the ransom notes."

Court recessed at 11:42.

State's Defense Object

"We are not here," Relly added to his statement at recess time, "to prove who wrote the ransom notes, but to prove Hauptmann didn't write them."

The defense position on the handwriting, although not phrased in so many words, seemed to be to cast doubt on the theory that anyone already mentioned in the case could have written them.

It was also indicated that the defense through implication, might try to convince the jury that Fisch had obtained the ransom money in any one of several ways.

Relly resumed the questioning of Trendley with the remark:

"I now begin the second paragraph of the nursery note."

Trendley said he could not find the first word "we" on the charts.

The Word "Warn"

The second word "warn" was not found on the charts either, the witness testified.

Relly reached "line seven" of the nursery note.

Q. And not a single symbol on the Osborn charts?

A. No.

Q. From your examination of the nursery note would you say it was written freely and disguised?

A. It was written disguised.

Q. Part written and part printed?

A. Yes. It is my opinion the left hand may have been used some time.

He referred specifically to the word "public" in the note and said it gave every indication of being written with greater effort and care than the rest of the note.

"It was probably written with the left hand," he observed, adding he considered it extremely significant and studied it before arriving at the opinion Hauptmann did not write the note.

Relly asked Joseph A. Langkan to identify a booklet containing photos of the ransom notes. The prosecution aide refused. It was not in evidence and Langkan pointed out the defense was privileged to introduce his own exhibits.

"This is unheard of, your honor," Relly said. "This is a book of pictures of the ransom notes, supplied to the defense by the state."

Those ransom notes? Interposed Langkan.

"You know we have no ransom notes," Relly retorted.

Without Booklet.

The defense attorney said he would proceed without the booklet but Justice Trenchard asked Langkan to identify the book. Langkan did and Relly agreed to hold the book himself and present the original of the nursery to the jury. The state indicated the booklets need by the jury before would be available after the noon recess.

26 Persons Injured in Train Crash Today

Framingham, Mass., Feb. 1 (AP)—A trainman was critically injured and 25 passengers hurt here today as a gasoline-motored train of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad ran through a switch and crashed into freight cars on a siding.

Leslie R. Rylander, 56, of Framingham, a baggage-master on the train, suffered a fractured skull. He was on the danger list at Framingham Hospital.

Four others taken to the hospital were Ralph Daniels, of Framingham, head and leg injuries; Robert Gray, of Southboro, broken nose; Annie Collins, of Framingham, head injuries; Chester Gray, Southboro, head injuries. The others injured were given first aid treatment and taken to their homes.

The accident occurred a few hundred yards north of the Framingham station. The train, en route from Marlborough to this city, carried between 40 and 50 passengers. Railroad officials began an investigation to determine the cause of the accident.

Play at Auditorium Was Well Attended

The Late Christopher Bean Pleases As Presented By Relief Dramatists—Vaudeville Show to Be Staged Feb. 23.

Despite the subzero temperature Thursday night, a good-sized audience was out to see the three-act comedy, "The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard, at the Municipal Auditorium.

The cast of 11 persons from the Drama Department of the Works Division of the Emergency Relief Administration gave a fine interpretation of the play that was brought to Kingston some time ago as a moving picture, featuring Marie Dressler.

In the play, the local audience saw what fine entertainment is being furnished by the relief actors under the supervision of Chas. Sweet, chief supervisor, who is arranging plays, vaudeville shows and operettas without cost to communities in which they are given.

Members of the American Legion Drum Corps, in uniform, acted as ushers.

Thursday evening, February 28, another treat will be given in the auditorium. The next entertainment will be a vaudeville show, featuring high class artists.

Medicos Oppose Health Insurance

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1 (AP)—A resolution from the State Medical Society opposing the bill to provide for compulsory health insurance was in the hands of legislators today.

The resolution was adopted by the legislative committee of the society yesterday after Dr. Jacob L. Moreno, of New York, asserted that no physician "is capable of properly treating the large number of patients sent him under health insurance."

The resolution stated the society is opposed to health insurance plans "in principle" and the pending bill "in particular."

The compulsory health insurance bill provides for the establishment of a health fund to be administered by the state and financed through a tax of six per cent on the wages of the insured. It is intended to give relief to persons who cannot afford to lose either time or wages through illness. The insured could select his own physician, under the terms of the measure, and all general practitioners could serve.

Sneezing Woman

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—The "sneezing woman" of nearby Orangetown was still sneezing today, and still didn't know why after three weeks of it. To her doctor as well as to her all a puzzle. She had no cold, and she wasn't ill, but she sneezed, sneezed and sneezed. When she went to sleep, the spasms stopped, but she always woke to sneeze again. The sudden interruptions disrupted her housework, but apparently has had no ill effect upon her health, Dr. Ira Henderson says.

Rosendale Night at Municipal Auditorium

Next Monday night will be Rosendale night at the Municipal Auditorium dance when a group of young actors from the Rosendale school will present a short entertainment in connection with the amateur entertainments begun at last week's dance.

People from all parts of Rosendale township are expected to come to the dance to see Drum Major Ernest DeWitt lead his 16 soldiers in a military drill entitled, "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

Two weeks ago more than 150 people saw this act win first prize in a dramatic contest sponsored by the Rosendale Township Association in which five schools of the township took part.

In the performance next Monday night, Drum Major Ernest DeWitt, a shako he will wear, will boom out orders and formations to his company of 16 soldiers, who will be resplendent in their red and white uniforms topped off by black shakos.

The soldiers in the company include: Theresa Hart, Edith Rask, Doris Fessel, June Myers, Virginia DeWitt, Harriet Marks, Helen Hermance, Regina Dellay, Ernest Ruckert, John J. Dellay, Richard DeWitt, Clyde Baxter, Silvia Castellani, Martin Joyce, Myles Oakley and Charles Hart. They are directed by Mrs. Annette R. Leverich and Miss Gertrude Schinnen.

In addition to the drill by the Rosendale group, there will be other entertainment and continuous dancing to the music of two 10 piece orchestras made up of musicians of the local union.

Should any amateur entertainer be desirous of showing his talent in the Municipal Auditorium at the community dance, he is urged to get in touch with Paul Zurga or one of the committee in charge.

Henry Rua Dead of Poisonous Sausage

Second Victim of Disease Caused by Eating Poisonous Homemade Sausage—Three Others Still in Hospital.

Henry Rua of East Kingston died at the Kingston Hospital, Thursday afternoon, the second victim of the disease caused by eating poisonous homemade sausage.

The first to die from the same cause was John Carpio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpio of East Kingston, and brother-in-law of the 23-year-old husband of Teale Carpio Rua, who expired yesterday.

Mrs. Rua and her two brothers, Louis and Charles, are still at the hospital. Her condition was reported "fair" today, and that of two brothers, "good."

Mr. Rua's death was not unexpected from the time that he was admitted to the hospital three weeks ago. However, although his condition was poor, hopes of recovery were not given up until yesterday afternoon.

Physicians said the illness of the Carpio and Rua was produced by consumption of diseased pork used to make homemade sausage.

Members of the stricken family were brought to the hospital at intervals of one or two days. At the same time, Thomas Carpio, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpio was there with pneumonia, but he has recovered and been discharged.

Besides his wife, Mr. Rua is survived by a seven-months' old son, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rua; four brothers, James, Peter, Antonio and Frank, and four sisters, Mary, Teresa, Josephine and Mrs. Michael Tiano.

The funeral will be held from the home Monday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Colman's Church, East Kingston, at 9:30, with a Mass of requiem for the repose of his soul. Interment will be in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, Kingston.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE R. JAGGER

New York, Feb. 1 (AP)—Straddling financial markets today showed little disposition to step out in any direction. With trading in stocks even duller than yesterday's colorless session, most traders clung to the safety side-lines and waited for developments to shake the list out of its lethargy.

Among share gainers of fractions to around a point or more were Columbia Carbon, Air Reduction, Bethlehem Steel Preferred, Inland Steel, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Twin City Rapid Transit, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, Wrigley and International Harvester. An advance of 2 points was registered by Homestake Mining on a few transfers. U. S. Smelting, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, U. S. Steel Preferred and Union Pacific lost about a point each. General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel Common, N. Y. Central, General Electric, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were unchanged to slightly lower. Studebaker was active without getting anywhere.

Wilentz Objects Today To Court Newsreels

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 1 (AP)—Attorney General David T. Wilentz today telegraphed the principal newsreel companies protesting the showing of pictures taken during the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann while court was in session.

Such pictures were displayed for the first time last night. Wilentz charged the motion pictures had been obtained in defiance of court order.

Before the start of the trial, Justice Thomas W. Trenchard told all photographers he would permit the taking of pictures, stills or motion, only during recess and that they would be permitted in the courtroom with their cameras only with that understanding.

ORGANIZED LABOR CITES CRITICISM ON RELIEF BILL

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—A blast of criticism from organized labor was directed at the administration's $4,000,000,000 work relief bill today as that controversial measure continued under the critical scrutiny of the senate appropriations committee.

Appearing before another senate group, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said the plan to pay a maximum of $50 a month on public works projects would "tear down the wage structure of private industry and reduce the purchasing power" of the workers.

"We are indeed apprehensive about this," he said. "Instead of being a benefit to wage earners it is going to injure them. We are insisting that in the expenditure of the money the prevailing wage of the locality shall be maintained.

Green at the time was urging a senate judiciary subcommittee to approve legislation for a national maximum 30-hour work week. In another part of the capitol, Chairman Clegg (D-Va.) of the appropriations group and its members pressed administration spokesmen for more details on how the $4,000,000,000 would be spent.

Central Hudson Head C. O. Fromer Head Issues Statement on Rate Reductions

Explanations of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation is not submitting an annual report for the previous year at this time, as is the company's custom, were made by President Ernest A. Acker today, who said, "This year, however, the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act and the rules and regulations issued by the Securities Exchange Commission have materially increased the work required of our auditors. . . . This report will be distributed as soon as it can be made ready." At the same time a dividend of 20 cents per share of common stock, declared on December 31, 1934, was announced, with the information from Mr. Acker that "a preliminary report of the results of the year 1934 indicates that the earnings are sufficient to cover dividend requirements and to provide a reasonable balance for addition to surplus."

Tackling the much publicized rate reductions Mr. Acker made the following statement:

"The question of electric rates has been receiving, in recent months, the combined attention of Federal, state and municipal authorities, and various methods of public utility regulation have been fully discussed in the press. In spite of the fact that the cost of electricity represents only 2 per cent or less of the average family budget, and that electric rates are decreasing while the cost of government, food and commodities generally are increasing, there is a strong urge on the part of many governmental agencies for immediate rate reduction. It is interesting to note that many operating utility companies have depended in a large measure upon rate reduction as an important factor in the development of their business, and have, in turn, been able in the past to make further rate reductions because of the new business obtained. This process has been in effect in the Central Hudson area for many years and has resulted in material benefits to our customers. Gas and electric rates reductions totaling $1,365,204.00 have been made in the period 1922-1935, $512,000.00 of this total reduction having been made in the years 1932-1934. The increased business development from time to time has allowed the company to maintain reasonable earnings and at the same time to continue the process of rate adjustment. This policy has resulted, since 1925, in a decrease of 57 per cent in the average rate paid for electricity by our residential customers."

"We are operating today in a period of subnormal business activity, rising prices, and increasing taxes. In addition, we are faced with the possibility of increased costs of operation by reason of unemployment insurance and other social legislation. These factors are important and must be taken into account in any discussion of rate reduction. In recent years, however, the public authorities and utility companies in various sections of the country have by joint agreement developed plans for rate modification, which provide the possibility of rate reduction to the customer and at the same time safeguard the financial structures of the companies. These various plans are under review by the Hon. John E. Mack, counsel for the joint legislative committee, which is now investigating the operation and rates of the public utilities in New York state. We have announced publicly that it is our desire to cooperate fully with this committee and the Public Service Commission in the development of any reasonable plan which will result in decreased cost to the customer and at the same time allow the company to maintain a sound economic structure."

"THE LAST ADVERTISEMENT WAS PRINTED YESTERDAY"

*What Would the World
Be Like If It Were TRUE?*

THE last advertisement was printed yesterday. You have cut it out and put it away to show your grandchildren. With it, a way of living as you knew it, has passed forever.

Tonight you will want to see a movie. You pull up to one—saw it last week. At another—but no, you don't like So-and-So's acting. Let's go home. It's too much gas and time to waste on a show. Next month half the theatres will close. Poor attendance.

Tomorrow you will want some groceries. You will go to the nearest grocery store and buy some. Rib roast, perhaps, and lima beans. You won't hear until tomorrow night at the bridge table that the store just next door was having a "special" on rib roast and lima beans. Pretty soon your husband will wonder why the food bills are so high. The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Next month is Aune Jane's birthday. Well, if you think I'm going to spend half a day tramping from store to store looking for a gift that I used to find by turning a page—can't afford gifts anyway. We're spending money like water and living like poor folks . . .

Old car's wearing out. Can't afford a new one . . . Chevies and V-8's are both $1600 . . . demand's fallen off . . . they've had to put up prices to meet plant expenses. Most of the others have closed down . . . don't know how the government will feed all the new unemployed.

Fellow in Milwaukee is inventing an air conditioner to sell for $50. No one will hear of it. You will never see it. What is air conditioning anyway? The last advertisement was printed yesterday.

Advertising has brought us many things. Finer cars, better homes, silly fads and wonderful inventions that have made life easier—and longer. Advertising is no unmixed blessing. But it has helped give America a standard of living unmatched in any other place and time. That standard of living should persist as long as people have wants to fill and money to spend and eyes to read with.

It will persist only so long as the presses keep rolling.

Thermometer Was at 13 Below Zero Today

Mercury Hit Second Lowest Point of Week This Morning at 7:15—Cloudy Weather Forecast For Groundhog Day, Tomorrow.

Kingsford experienced another spell of subzero weather today, the mercury having dropped from two below zero at midnight to 13 below this morning at 7:15 o'clock. This temperature reading was taken at the office of the city engineer in the city hall.

The lowest temperature registered this week was —19 recorded last Monday. Temperature readings for the entire week have been as follows:

Sunday, January 27, —4; Monday, —19; Tuesday, +16; Wednesday, —4; Thursday —7 and today —12.

Although the thermometer registered the second lowest mark of the week today, the weather bureau at Washington promises warmer temperatures Saturday, February 2, the day that "Brer" Groundhog comes out of his burrow. The forecast also states that it will be cloudy, indicating that he might not see his shadow, and that warmer weather is in store. It is an old story that if Mr. Groundhog does not see his shadow he remains out until the following fall; but that if he sees his shadow he goes back into his burrow, remaining for six weeks more of cold weather.

Admiral Slated To Head Work Drive Keeps Traditional Silence Of Navy

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington (AP)—Rear Admiral Christian Joy Peoples keeps the rigid silence of his service tradition as events suggest his selection for the biggest job of a long career—helping to spend $4,000,000,000 in the administration's new work program.

This naval officer who never commanded a bridge—whose weapons have been figures rather than guns—is understood to be President Roosevelt's choice to direct one of three phases of the administration's big work relief drive.

The dash and color associated with the officers have not been Peoples' in his 35 years with the navy. His has been the painstaking job of overseeing all the department's vast purchases, running into many millions annually, and—more recently—doing the same work for the U. S. treasury, too.

Reticent About Self

Ask naval officers about the man and they tell you only the flat, official facts of his career. Ask Peoples himself and he tells you nothing. He turns away all questions, and refers questioners to his official navy department biography—which covers the subject in 150 words—and says any discussion by him, even of his own life, would be "most inappropriate."

His fellow officers have little knowledge of the details of his career. This much, however, emerges: He made a record in keeping naval expenses to a minimum, especially during the World War, and was decorated with the navy cross. In the specifications that saved a lot of time and money and, his friends vouch for the purchase of everything, been hard-boiled about spending government dollars.

Hudson River Valley One of Best Locations For Fruit Growing

The Hudson River Valley section is one of the best locations for fruit growing in the United States, according to Prof. A. J. Heinke of Cornell University, who is in Kingston as a member of the speaking bureau of the eastern section of the Fruit Growers Association, now meeting here at the New York state armory. Prof. Heinke made this remark Thursday in an address before members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Introduced by County 4-H Leader Bernard Joy, the speaker opened his remarks explaining the advantages of the Hudson river section compared to other fruit growing localities in this country. Conceding that the northwest had some advantages in climate, especially in the amount of sunshine, Prof. Heinke explained that local growers were adapting trees here to the climate using varieties of a more hardy nature than heretofore, and that the nearness of any slight climatic advantage that the northwest might have.

Because of this advantage of climate here in which it was not necessary to irrigate crops, the speaker opined that the local growers had not intensified their fruit studies as much as their western neighbors. He believed that the northwestern growers had paid more attention to their product it being necessary for them to produce an almost perfect apple or other variety of fruit for the New York market if they were to compete with eastern growers. With an increased interest and study of better fruit production the professor predicted that each year comes increased competition with the western market, and his opinion is that great development here will make it very hard for western growers to compete with the east in the New York market.

The Hudson valley grower also has the advantage of the use of the by-products, fruits which will not measure up to the required standards for sale, but which may be used for cider, jellies and other purposes. The western grower has not developed this phase of the game yet, and huge piles of apples not suited for shipment may be seen on nearly every fruit farm at certain times of the year.

A third advantage of the local grower was found in the fact that most of the farms had been in the same family for several generations, that father had handed down all his information concerning local conditions to his son, and so on, until now the present grower had a background on which to work in addition to the new improvements in methods discovered in various experimental stations.

Comparing the local fruit farms to those in California, Prof. Heinke said that the local growers were producing more and better fruits, it being the policy in California to hire Chinese, Japanese or Mexican labor.

for the various operations on the farm, whose owner often was not acquainted with the industry. The local grower is intensely interested in his product, understands the industry and has an active part in the producing of the product.

Picturing the fruit grower, the professor stated that he was one of the keenest of business men, well versed in the science of his industry, open minded to change, always alert to what was going on about him and one of the best types of citizens. Prof. Heinke believed that the fruit industry was destined to play an increasingly more important part in the life of this section, and predicted that he would be a man of considerable importance to the communities of this section.

President Morris Sampter thanked the speaker for his remarks and for attending the club session. The musical program was in charge of Paul Zucca, assisted at the piano by Danny Bittner, and was featured by a "foot warming" marching song, participated in by the club members who responded to this plan after objections had been voiced to Manager "Chick" Gross of the hotel for what was considered insufficient warmth during meal time.

Hedges Around the House.

Hedges are alive and have beauty; hence, many persons prefer them to wooden or iron fences around the home. Home owners should become acquainted with the many types of hedges which they can use.

A new Cornell bulletin tells about clipped hedges and their uses; not only how and when to plant them, to space them, and to care for them, but it suggests hedges for various uses. Now is the time to think about them.

Mighty Gate Is Sunk Into Colorado River

Boulder Dam, Nevada, Feb. 1 (AP)—A three million-pound gate sank gradually into the Colorado river today to form a new lake, the largest ever made by man.

Three months from today, says John C. Page, one of the reclamation service engineers, the lake will be 300 feet up against the 727-foot dam and extend back some 60 miles. It will take three years for the mighty Colorado river to fill the reservoir, extending 115 miles up the canyons of the Colorado and 35 miles up the Virgin river in Nevada, a lake that will be 11 times as large as man ever created hitherto.

To the people of the Imperial Valley, Southern California, it means that the danger of floods is past forever. Their lot has been a hazardous one, the greater part of Imperial Valley being below sea level and far below the course of the Colorado river.

The $385,000,000 project not only provides flood control, but will generate electrical power for the Pacific southwest three times greater than the amount any other project in the country contemplates.

The most expensive part of the Boulder Dam project is that of connecting the lake with metropolitan centers of Southern California to provide a water supply. The metropolitan water district aqueduct phase of the project will embrace an expenditure of $220,000,000.

Cat Show Saturday At Governor Clinton

Saturday, February 2, is the big day of the season for cat fanciers everywhere. The cat show to be held in the ballroom of the Governor Clinton Hotel offers some of the strongest competition seen during the past year. There is a very large entry of undefeated champions together with many outstanding young cats who have just recently been launched on their show careers and many who are making their debut at this show.

All breeds and colors of cats are represented. As usual the longhair varieties are leading by far in number. The royal sacred Siamese and the domestic short hairs are to be represented in goodly numbers and will defend their breeds.

Exhibits are not limited to the Hudson valley but exhibits from all sections of the United States as well as a number from this city are competing for honors.

Judging of the classes will begin at 10 a. m. and will continue all day until late afternoon when the grand finals will be awarded by the judges. All cats will be on exhibition from 10 a. m. until the close of the show at 10 p. m.

Contrary to popular opinion the majority of cats really enjoy the shows. No animal likes being admired or accepted it with more natural poise than they. Many of the cats have their cages lined with hangings of colors most flattering to that particular breed or color cat.

We've heard about those quintuplets now from everybody except their mother. Why not give her a chance?

Compare Prices With Care

Do not rush into buying furniture at the present time because of seemingly radical price reductions.

Be sure and distinguish between old stocks greatly reduced and newly-stocked merchandise offered at present low price levels. Therefore, visit at least two or three stores and compare the actual values.

Our assortment, the largest in the Hudson Valley, will astonish you—our low prices defy comparison—even on furniture less attractive than ours. Shop other stores and then compare Stock & Cordts' furniture and low prices with theirs.
